Axxess Partners With Olli Health to Elevate Home Health Coding and Quality Review

DALLAS, November 13, 2024 – Axxess, the leading global technology platform for healthcare at home, has partnered with Olli Health, an artificial intelligence (AI)-powered next-gen home health coding and quality review service, to improve operational efficiency and financial performance for Axxess clients. Through this collaboration, Axxess Home Health clients will have access to Olli Health's advanced coding and quality review services.

"Axxess is dedicated to equipping our clients with the best tools and services," said Chris Taylor, Senior Vice President of Channel Partnerships at Axxess. "Partnering with Olli Health enables our clients to enhance their revenue cycles, lower costs and deliver superior patient care. By optimizing workflows and enhancing financial performance, Axxess and Olli Health are setting new standards for technology and services."

Olli Health is revolutionizing home health coding and quality review with cutting-edge technology, supported by certified U.S.-based coding and OASIS experts. This partnership will help Axxess Home Health clients achieve more accurate coding and quality reviews at faster turnaround times, which can result in up to a 50% cost savings.

"Olli Health's mission is to use modern AI technology to help home health organizations keep more money in their pockets," said Eric Steege, CEO of Olli Health. "We are excited to provide Axxess' home health customers with a next generation coding and quality review service at a market-leading price."
